Meeting in a Box

The diversity training and educational tool

One of the most popular areas of DiversityInc.com is our focus on monthly themes. Meeting in a Box uses our themed materials to assist in training employees about diversity and inclusion. Articles can include topics such as “10 Things Never to Say,” compilations of factoids and historic timelines.

Product Details:

- 10 digital documents comprised of exclusive topic-oriented research designed to be uploaded to your corporate intranet. Documents can be branded with your company logo.
- Content deals with holiday themes for underrepresented groups as well as general diversity-management themes. Product often includes factoids, timelines and several related articles.
- A great reference for challenging situations and training purposes.

Product Benefits:

- Simple, clear training tool
- Data about diversity in business you can't get anywhere else—easily accessible via your intranet to your staff
